DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — slight, gray-haired wife of an expoliceman was charged Tuesday with embezzling $100,513 from her former employer who said an investigation disclosed a shortage of more than three-quarters of a million dollars.

Mary McCallum Averill, 58, pleaded innocent and was released under $1,000 bond.

Mrs. Averill worked for the noted Detroit architectural and engineering firm of Giffels & Vallet, Inc., for 29 years, retiring in 1957.

Something Wrong

Shortly after her retirement as 20,000-a-year head bookkeeper, Stevenson J. Giffels, an officer in the firm, visited the Wayne County prosecutor's office. He told authorities something was wrong with the company's books. Giffels was advised to have an outside audit.

Investigators for the firm discovered at least $876,168 was missing since 1950, said William P. Long, an assistant prosecutor. A warrant based specifically on $100,513 found missing between July 24, 1956, and Jan. 10, 1956, was issued.

Mrs. Averill and her husband, Glenn, 62, a retired former Detroit police sergeant, have lived in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., in recent years.

Large Holdings

Police said Averill has vast real estate holdings, including a $600,000 farm in nearby Macomb County.

This was Mrs. Averill's third encounter with embezzlement charges.

In 1928, the year before she went with the architectural firm, she pleaded guilty to embezzling $6,000 from the Pennsylvania Petroleum Corp.

She said she wanted to silence a former sweetheart who was attempting to blackmail her.

Her husband, who was a patrolman at the time, stood by his wife. He promised to sell their home to make restitution.

In the same year, Mrs. Averill was also accused of embezzling $412 from the L. C. Smith & Corona Typewriter Co., but the charge was dismissed on motion of the prosecutor.

In the ensuing years, the Averills acquired a good deal of property.

Americans Sentenced To Long Terms

HAVANA (AP) — Three Americans were sentenced to long prison terms Tuesday by two Castro military tribunals. They were charged with counter-revolutionary activities. Two got 30 years, the other 25.

Prosecution demands for death sentences for two were rejected. Death was not asked for the other.

In Havana, Rafael del Pino, 33, a Cuban-born U.S. citizen whose home is in Miami, Fla., was sentenced to 30 years.

Helped Cuban Escape

Del Pino was captured last July when he landed a light plane on a highway near Havana. He was accused of trying to help anti-Castro Cubans flee the country.

The prosecution asked the death sentence but the court in Havana's La Cabana Fortress said that despite the gravity of charges against him Del Pino had not caused any loss of life and, therefore, was given the prison sentence.

In Pinar del Rio, a two-man military tribunal spared from the firing squad Frank Austin Young, 38, also of Miami. He was sentenced to 30 years.

His American companion, Peter John Lambton, 24, London-born grandson of a British socialite, was given 25 years. The prosecution had demanded a 30-year sentence.

The court in Pinar del Rio also turned down the demand for a death sentence for Fernando Pruna Berto, 24, a dapper Cuban underground worker who once attended Columbia University. He was ordered to prison for 30 years.

Cohen Friend Admits Killing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sam Frank Locigno, friend of underworld figure Mickey Cohen, said Tuesday he is the one who shot and killed tough-guy bookie John Whalen in a restaurant last Wednesday night.

He made the statement to a newsman just before surrendering to police, along with two other men sought in the case.

Locigno, 38, said he acted in self-defense after Whalen, 41, attacked him.

He surrendered with Joseph DeCarlo, 36, and Roger Leonardi, 49. Police said the three, plus three or four others, were seated with Cohen at a table in Rondell's Restaurant in suburban Sherman Oaks when the shooting occurred.

Steel Union Signs With Can Companies

Pact Covers 30-Cent Hike In 3 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Steelworkers Union reached agreement Tuesday with the American and Continental Can companies, major steel customers, and said it should have a bearing on the steel dispute.

And as the stalemates steel negotiations continued, the union gave partial endorsement to a plan by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell to let some third party recommend a labor peace pact for the industry.

David J. McDonald, the union's president, announced the agreement with the can companies covering 45,000 workers. It calls for a 30-cent-per-hour raise over a three-year term retrospective to Oct. 1. Wage increases averaging over eight cents an hour are provided in each year.

Health Cost Payment

The agreement raises pensions and provides, for the first time the union said in a major labor agreement, for health cost payments for retired workers.

Earnings in the can industry averaged $2.73 an hour in September, including overtime and other pay premiums.

Shortly before industry and union negotiators met with federal mediators in the steel dispute, Mitchell told a news conference of his plan to bring in third party help.

He said he felt the time has come for both sides to submit their dispute to outsiders. The Cabinet officer then advanced three methods he said seemed to him to fall within the realm of free collective bargaining and the views of President Eisenhower.

One would be to submit the problem to fact-finders for recommendations. A second would be to agree to let the Federal Mediation Service perform the same function of making settlement proposals.

Reject Third Suggestion

A third plan Mitchell suggested would be for both sides to agree to submit matters still in dispute to binding arbitration — the decision of an outside expert.

McDonald said he completely endorsed Mitchell's proposal to submit the dispute to either a fact-finding board or to the Federal Mediation Service.

However, McDonald said, the union opposes arbitration of unresolved issues, which was Mitchell's third suggestion.

McDonald said the union is willing immediately to designate a member of a three-man fact-finding board to serve in the steel dispute. The industry would designate a second member and the two jointly would pick the third member.

If both sides can't agree on the third member, McDonald said, he should be chosen by Chief Justice Earl Warren.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief steel industry negotiator, declined to comment immediately on Mitchell's suggestions.

The industry has opposed settlement by outsiders.

The steel deadlock prompted Adlai E. Stevenson to propose in New York that the White House be empowered to take such cases out of the hands of labor and industry. Under his plan, the President could continue vital production while the dispute is resolved.

19 Convicts Still Loose After Break

IVY BLUFF, N.C. (AP) — Twenty dangerous criminals — heavily armed and at least four of them killers — broke out of the tough Ivy Bluff prison for incriminate Tuesday.

Six guards were overpowered and left locked up. The convicts had eight rifles, eight pistols and a sub-machine gun.

Despite a huge manhunt centering in North Carolina and Virginia, only one of the convicts had been reported captured.

Lifer Recaptured

A posse, following a bloodbath, pursued Charles Edwards, 28, a Gastonia, N.C., Negro serving a life term, about eight miles south of the prison during the afternoon.

The FBI joined the hunt.

With a four-hour start before the break was reported, the convicts might easily have driven beyond Charlotte or Richmond and nearly to Bristol, Tenn., Charleston, W. Va., Norfolk or Washington before roadblocks could be set up.

The heaviest frost of the fall chilled northern Florida and damaged some truck crops in the Gainesville and Deland districts. The mercury plunged as low as 20 above in a few spots near Gainesville. Readings of 23 to 28 were common in that section.

Temperatures reached overnight lows of 12 above at Mount Mitchell, N.C., 26 in Atlanta, 27 in Birmingham, Ala., and 28 in Jacksonville, Fla.

Distorted Price Used, Firm Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of a New Jersey drug firm protested to a Senate subcommittee Tuesday that its staff used distorted figures in picturing the company as marking up the prices of some of its medicines by as much as 7,079 per cent.

Bailey promptly fired two guards, one a 15-year man, for laxity.

Twenty-one other prisoners refused a chance to escape despite the reputation of Ivy Bluff, where many men have maimed themselves to gain a transfer.

The escape apparently was engineered by Charles (Yank) Stewart, 32, of Wilmington, N.C., serving 25 years for armed robbery, and James Christy, 26, of Concord, N.C., serving 19 years for breaking and entering and manslaughter.

Bailey said they apparently used smuggled hacksaws to cut their way out of isolation cells on the top floor of the two-story brick building.

Church Backs Birth Control

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The National Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church Tuesday overwhelmingly endorsed birth control measures as a means of "relieving problems of population growth."

The statement adopted by the council affirmed its support of birth control resolutions adopted by the 1958 Lambeth Conference of the World Anglican Communion in London.

The Rt. Rev. Stephen F. Bayne, Bishop of Olympia, Wash., criticized the Roman Catholic Church's opposition to birth control.

"It (the Catholic teaching on birth control) was devised by a man just before surrendering to police, along with two other men sought in the case.

Educators Attack Plan To Revise School Subsidy

HARRISBURG (AP) — Senate revisions of a plan to increase state aid for schools were attacked Tuesday by four statewide education organizations.

"A new level of support is absolutely essential if the school children of our Commonwealth are to be served to the fullest," said their letter.

The measure originally called for increasing state aid to schools by 200 million dollars in the next two years. The figure was reduced by the obstacle to this problem going over to the 1960 session, notwithstanding statements to the contrary."

It was a reference to Gov. Lawrence's position that he would veto any school subsidy measure which was not accompanied by a tax bill to finance it.

Sens. Harry E. Seyler (D-York) and Jo Hays (D-Centre) are planning to offer amendments to the bill when it comes up for final action, possibly next Monday.

The four organizations recommended that the Senate haggle the figure back to 70 million dollars, adding:

Postmasters Laud Response To 'Mail Early' Program

COMMENTING on the excellent response to their "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign, Postmasters Norman B. Gregory of East Stroudsburg and Fred H. Rhodes of Stroudsburg said yesterday: "A great deal depends on the cooperation of our patrons during the next ten days if we are to reach our goal of having every Christmas gift package and card delivered before Christmas Eve."

They continued, "If you will take just a little extra care with your Christmas mailings right now, you'll avoid disappointing friends and loved ones." They said further that the Post Office is well prepared for the big Christmas mail load, but unless everyone steps up the mailing of Christmas cards and gift packages immediately, some of them may not be delivered before Christmas.

Need Cooperation

The Postmaster also emphasized the need for your special cooperation in making sure that your return address and the recipients address are plainly written on all Christmas card envelopes and package labels. Be sure to use zone numbers, and it's always a good idea to include an extra label inside your packages carrying your name and address and that of the recipient.

Because Parcel Post size and weight limitations vary according to destination, be sure to ask about them when you go to the Post Office to buy stamps. Speaking of stamps, the Postmaster pointed out that if you always use four cent First Class postage on your Christmas cards they will be delivered promptly and forwarded or returned, if necessary, providing you include your name and address on the Christmas card envelopes.

Ask For Labels

When you call at the Post Office be sure to ask for free labels which read, "ALL FOR OUT OF TOWN DELIVERY" and "ALL FOR LOCAL DELIVERY". Place these labels on bundles of Christmas cards for local addresses and those for out-of-town destinations. It will help, too, if you will mail your out-of-town Christmas cards several days in advance of those intended for delivery to nearby points. Separate bundles should be made for Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg.

"Local delivery" includes the city of mailing and for the rural routes emanating from that postoffice only, the postmasters said.

You can avoid the noon hour and late afternoon lines at the windows by mailing your packages either before 10:00 a.m. or between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m.

The Postmasters especially urge you to get your out-of-state packages into the Post Office within the next few days to do everything possible to mail all of your Christmas gifts for local delivery by December 10 and your Christmas cards to nearby points by at least a week before Christmas.

Speaking of stamps, the Post-

CHRISTMAS, despite its religious origin, still carries with it many superstitions of days long-gone when the peoples of various nations believed in ghosts and other fairy stories.

The origin of the Christmas tree, for example, is almost lost in antiquity, but it is known to have started in Germany before that country was changed to Christianity, much less made a signal nation.

Mythologists believe the tree was originally worshipped because it kept its green color all year around, instead of losing its leaves as other trees did in the fall.

The worship of the tree in those days may have been the offshoot of the worship of the trees in spring when they came to bloom once more, but the spring practice is believed to be much older.

Bad Luck A branch of the evergreen tree, kept until the Twelfth Night of the Christmas season, then discarded, was believed to bring good luck.

Officers trying to reconstruct the events called it murder and suicide, but found no motive.

Despite Religious Origin, Christmas Has Many Superstitions Of Days Long Gone

By Bob Stewart

The lights decorating the tree, such as we use today, were thought to have been started with the Hanukkah, or Festival of Lights, of the Jews.

A white Christmas would bring prosperity for the entire year, while a green or hot, Christmas, would "fill the churchyard."

A popular superstition of those days was that anyone sitting under the pine tree could hear angels sing, but "death would follow."

The sun shining through the fruit trees on Christmas Day, it was thought, would bring a large harvest the following year from the trees.

A TWO-CAR collision at the intersection of West Main St. and Dreher Ave., Stroudsburg, at 3:15 p.m. yesterday afternoon resulted in $600 damage to the cars involved but no personal injuries.

'Y' Drive Head Outlines Plans

DR. PETER K. Emmons, retired Presbyterian minister, was introduced last night as general chairman for the annual membership campaign on the Monroe County.

He appeared before the December meeting of the YMCA Board of Directors and outlined preliminary plans for the drive starting Jan. 18.

Dr. Emmons disclosed two departures from previous YMCA enrollment drives. In the first place, he said, the campaign will be shortened to two weeks, instead of three as in previous years, and also the workers will concentrate on recruiting new members by having present members send their renewals to the YMCA by mail or in person.

The chairman requested each director to list the names of 10 prospective members and turn them over to campaign headquarters at the YMCA before Jan. 18. The names can be those of people who are new in the community or others who do not belong to the YMCA, Dr. Emmons said.

Nine To Be Elected

Nine new directors will be elected at the Jan. 12 meeting of the board. Every member of the association is eligible to cast a ballot for the directors and officers in advance of the meeting. General Secretary John R. Wilson reported. He said a ballot box will be placed in the lobby.

Nominated for directors were three holdover members, R. M. Frantz, Alfred J. Schaefer and John F. Hill, and these new candidates: Arlington W. Williams, Mrs. Clifford Heller, Earl F. Groner, Jess Pierson, E. Holt Wyckoff, Rev. John Boller, Edward Hess, Allan Sterner, Paul Edinger and Fran Shinn.

Two retiring directors, Loring Cramer and J. L. Cohen, were nominated as trustees. Horace G. Walters was chairman of the nominating committee.

The board extended a vote of thanks to the Industrial Management Club, a YMCA-sponsored organization, for the successful Industrial Fair staged by the club last month.

A. J. Schaefer, fair chairman, reported that $2,308.50 had been realized through the sale of booth space, booths and refreshments, and he thanked the industries, business places, individuals and organizations. Proceeds were turned over to the YMCA general fund.

W. C. G. Peterson reported that the public meeting class held its closing banquet Monday night with 44 persons attending. Dr. Harry Newkirk, instructor, presided. Richard Frantz was awarded the prize for delivering the best address.

New Classes

Peterson said new classes for beginners and advanced students will be started shortly.

Gordon Coy reported on National YMCA Week, which is scheduled for Jan. 17-23, and said all churches have been invited to cooperate.

Wilson said six new Gra-Y Clubs are to be chartered Dec. 19 at 6:30 p.m. in the YMCA. Among the activities scheduled for New Year's Day are an open house celebration, craft shop exhibit, hobby show and toy train races.

Three basketball leagues—Industrial, Senior and Older Boys—have been formed, and two others are being organized by Jack Chapman, physical director. The latter two are for junior and cadet boys.

Edward Telling is assisting Chapman in training 15 candidates for the YMCA boys swimming team which plans to schedule matches with out-of-town teams.

Grand Jury Refuses To Indict Latini

A MONROE County grand jury yesterday refused to indict Rudolph Latini, 41, of 201 Janet St., Auburn, N. Y., on a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

Latini was the driver of a tractor-trailer which struck and killed Gilbert Folkerston, 45, Knob Rd., Mt. Pocono, on Route 611 at Swiftwater at 6:50 p.m. on Oct. 6.

Latini had been free on $1,000 bond pending court action on the charge. State Police from Mount Pocono, who investigated, said Folkerston had pulled off the highway to change a tire and was walking toward the front of his car when he apparently leaned into the path of the tractor-trailer.

Sales To Minors

The grand jury indicted John and Ledit L. Altieri, operators of the Blue Trumpet Inn, on charges of sales to minors, but returned a no true bill on a charge of permitting minors to frequent the establishment.

Other true bills returned were against Frank J. Bruno, Union, N. J., and James A. Miller, Newark, N. J., both charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

The grand jury also declined to indict Michael LeRoy Bond, 18, Saylorsburg, RD 1, and Ernest Keller Williams, 18, Saylorsburg, on charges of malicious mischief involving throwing stones through windows of the Chestnuthill Township High School at Brodheadsville.

On Probation

On Monday, the pair pleaded guilty to other counts of malicious mischief and were placed on probation.

The grand jury also refused to indict:

Robert Alexander, Henryville; John Thomas Daley, Stroudsburg, RD 5, driving while under the influence of liquor; William Vogt and Kenneth Hardy, Mountainhome, Sunday sales of beer of liquor, and Jacob A. Francis, Stroudsburg, resisting arrest.

The jury also returned a no true bill on assault and battery charges against James J. Magrosky and Richard J. Luciano, both charged as the result of taking candy from Stroudsburg treat or trick groups at Halloween.

Foster I. Minnich was foreman of the jury with Martha A. Koch as secretary. Judge Fred W. Davis dismissed the jury after its presentment. There will be no inspection of county buildings by the jury this term of court.

The new firm has established offices at 33 N. Seventh St., Stroudsburg.

Hospital Service Group Gets Final Report For '59

THE FINAL area Advisory Committee meeting for 1959 of Hospital Service Association of Northeastern Pennsylvania was held Monday at Wilkes-Barre, with President George T. Bell presiding.

Bell's report brought Advisory Committee members up to date on matters pertaining to the recent rate changes and new benefits, and Blue Cross developments in the State, and nationally. He reported that the Northeastern Pennsylvania plan remains the lowest-cost plan in Pennsylvania, and mentioned briefly the soon-forthcoming opportunity Blue Cross will have to help with plans for the health protection of Federal Government employees.

In answer to questions from the floor, in the informal question and answer period that followed his remarks, Bell said the Northeastern Blue Cross plan had been among the first in existence to inaugurate such wholly "community service" aspects as non-group protection for persons past the age of 65; monthly, rather than quarterly, payment of dues for "direct pay" members who have temporarily been laid off.

Smithsonian Presented 1st Lighter

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The first automatic cigarette lighter was presented to the Smithsonian Institution by Ronson Corp., of Woodbridge, N. J., Delaware Water Gap, Pa. It is 33 years old.

This first model, the "Banjo", was invented by the company's founder, Louis V. Aronson, and was marketed in 1926. The lighter will be displayed in the museums' Hall of Heating and Lighting.

The lighter was formally presented to C. Malcolm Watkins, acting curator, division of cultural history of the Smithsonian, by Louis V. Aronson, II, president of Ronson. Mr. Watkins is placing the lighter into the collection, as Mr. Aronson looks on.

At the presentation, Aronson briefly sketched the history of the first automatic lighter.

Invented In 1915

Ronson's founder first invented the "French match" in 1915, which was used extensively by troops during World War I. For its development he was honored by the French Government. Ronson next brought out the "Wonderlighter" in 1919, a similar but more styled striker-type device. This was followed by the "Strikelite" during the early Twenties and the inventor in 1926 introduced "The Banjo", world's first automatic lighter. It worked on the "press it, lit, release it's out" one-motion principle.

This lighter is said to have revolutionized the industry and to have changed smoking habits around the world. Since its introduction it was traded by natives of New Guinea, used to light whale oil lamps by Eskimos, and sold across retail counters on five continents.

Decorating Dilemmas Hint Need For Home Counseling

AP Newsfeatures

THE AVERAGE WOMAN could keep a full-time decorator busy in planning new decor or answering her many questions. Here are some letters that indicate the need for more home counseling:

"Someone told me that pink and red can be used together without clashing. Is that true? I have a lipstick red chaise lounge in my bedroom and am planning to paint my bedroom pink. Would it be too much pink if I used a pink bedspread and pink throw pillows? What color rug should I use on the floor?"

Lively Pink

Pink would have a tendency to soften the red, and would be very pretty with it, I should think. An area rug or carpet in an apple green or soft moss green should be pretty if your pink is a lively pink and not a baby pink.

"I have a very small living room and wish to create an illusion of space. I am buying new furniture and completely redoing the room. Do you have any suggestions?"

Cool colors are said to make a room look larger. Blues and greens that are light in value will help a room recede in illusion. Mirrors lend to the illusion of distance. Furniture that is slender affords more space than heavy furniture. Fine-grained woods are best, and smooth textured fabrics also help make a small room look more spacious than it is.

Wood Paneling

"My husband wants to use wood paneling in the living room of a house we are remodeling. I think wood looks hard and would like a softer finish. I would have no objection to using wood in the play room. Don't you think that wood paneling presents a decorating problem?"

I think that some wood paneling can be very attractive and add to the beauty of a room.

Quiet Noisy Pipes

"NOISY" vibrating pipes can be stopped with a water pressure cushion. This is made with a capped 18-inch vertical pipe connected to the horizontal main water supply line. The air in the vertical pipe cushions the water pressure that causes the vibrations and noise.

What People Desire In New Houses

THERE may be times when you feel that home builders give you pretty much what they want in new houses. But the truth is that discussions, conferences and conventions are going on all the time in an effort to discover what will please you, the potential buyer.

This search for an accurate picture of your housing desires is, of course, based on sound business principles. If the builders give you what you want, within practical reasons, you will be more inclined to put your money on the line.

The builders have figured out, that on the average, a family wishing to buy a new house looks at 14 model houses before it makes a selection. Hence the constant competitive necessity to make certain that the model house is shown at its best, which explains why so much care is given to the furnishings.

No matter how many modern conveniences a house has, no matter how well it is constructed and no matter what its price, it always presents a better appearance when it is furnished. The buyer may not be able to afford the kind of furnishings on display, but at least he gets a clearer idea of what effects can be achieved within the structural limits of the house.

The buyer appears to be getting increasingly interested in the matter of privacy. He is paying more attention these days to such things as fences, separate bedrooms for each child, two bathrooms and, in some cases, living rooms that are on the side and rear of the house. Every so often a builder finds that a house otherwise acceptable is being turned down because it has a living room, with a picture window, at the front of the house.

Large Family Can Take Advantage Of Living Space Provided By This Popular Colonial Design House

THE POPULAR colonial design always offers plenty of living space especially for the large family. This home is no exception. Upstairs are three large bedrooms, a bath, four wardrobe closets plus a linen closet.

Note that from the exterior, the second floor is cantilevered.

This allows additional space for the two front bedrooms and when constructed of wood siding adds contrast to the lower part of exterior which is faced with fieldstone. The cantilevered second floor also protects front entry.

The entry is made private from the rest of the home and equipped with convenient guest closet. Upon entering the front hall, you have access to the living room, kitchen or to stairs going to second floor.

In keeping with the colonial style of this home, there is a large bay picture window in the living area and a natural fireplace at one side. To the rear of the floor plan is a separate dining area with doors opening onto a covered concrete terrace. Next to the dining room is the kitchen. These three areas dining, terrace and kitchen are planned for functional efficiency.

During warm months, the homemaker will have no trouble arranging meals out on the terrace and for the evenings when guest overstay the dining area the terrace is again a most logical extension of the dining area.

There is also ample space for a breakfast table in the large square-shaped kitchen. Another convenience of the first floor plan is found in the lavatory placed near work areas and just opposite are stairs leading to the full basement. A large broom closet is also located to one side of kitchen.

This plan conforms to general FHA and VA and Building Code requirements. The plan contains 721 square feet, and 20,303 cubic feet. Your builder or material supplier can give you the average cost per square or cubic foot in your area.

Complete building plan, including detail sheet, material list, and specification guide for Design H-766 may be purchased for $9.75 for first set; two for $18.25; three for $26.25; or four for $33.75. You may also pur-

Natural Heat Benefits Cellars

ONE OF the big bonuses of basement space is that the rooms below grade need much less heat from the furnace to keep you comfortable in the winter than do those above grade, according to "Today's Home." It explains that the earth a few feet down maintains a constant year-round temperature of about 56 degrees.

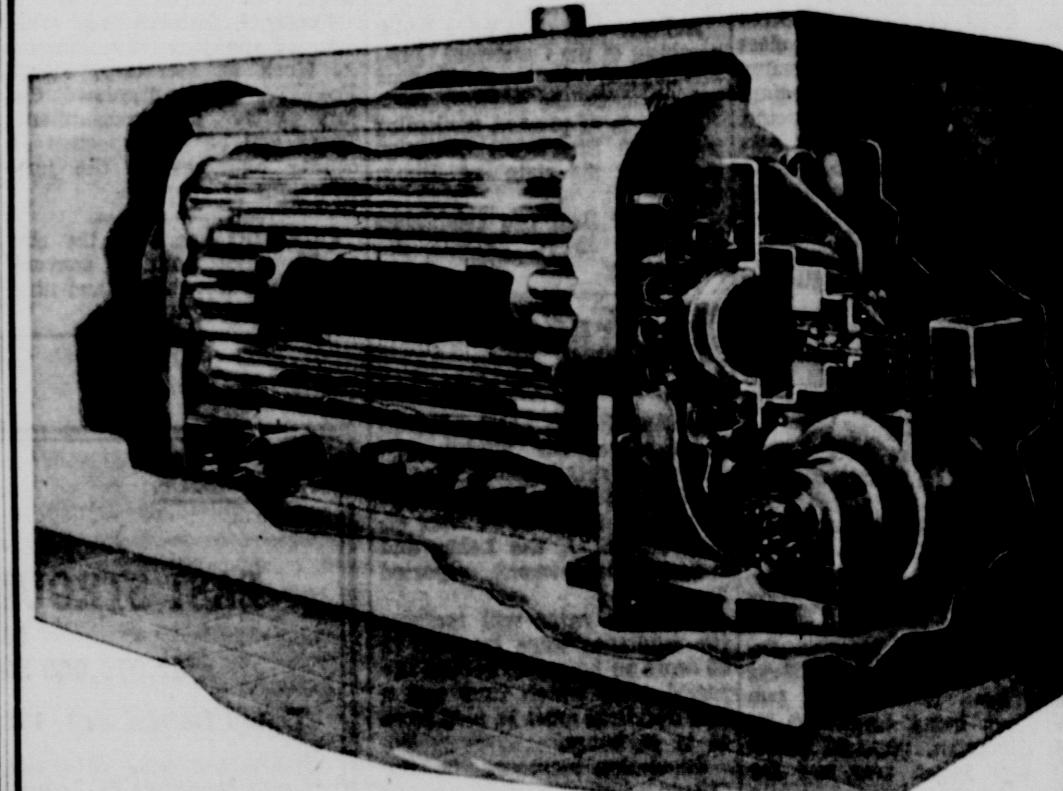

Even when the outdoor temperature is below zero, the basement keeps above freezing by drawing heat from the surrounding earth. And in summer the basement is cooler than the upstairs.

Derivation Of Name Gad Isn't Altogether Clear

"And Zilpah Leah's maid bare Jacob a son, and Leah said, 'A troop cometh and she called his name Gad.' —Genesis XXX:10-11

GAD WAS Jacob's seventh son. Just why Leah called him Gad is something of a mystery.

Scholars point out that the word means not only "troop," but a single soldier also, and was the name of an ancient god of fortune.

It may be, the reason, that Leah was given to practicing divination — trying to look into the future by means of astrology or by using little images called teraphim which, the Bible tells us, her father kept in his house.

If so, perhaps Leah fore-saw a soldier's career for the child. Certainly, in later generations, Gad's descendants were brave and good fighters.

It has also been suggested that perhaps Leah's maid, Zilpah,

may have prayed to the god of fortune for a child. So when she was born, in naming him Gad Leah may have meant that she was born by the assistance of the god.

Whatever the source of his name, it is clear from the general history of Jacob that he was always happy and proud to have another son.

Scripture does not tell us anything of Gad's boyhood. We know that later his tribe settled among the fertile green hills of Gilead.

People in distant countries knew the name of Gilead because on its flowered-covered slopes grew a fragrant yellow plant from which was made the famous balm of Gilead, used for all kinds of illness.

We know that Gad grew up to be a strong young man, thus fulfilling Leah's prophecy when he was born. In his final blessings to his sons, Jacob placed his hand on Gad's head and said:

"A troop shall overcome him, but he shall overcome at last."

And Moses pays tribute to him declaring him "a lion which teareth the arm with the crown of the head."

Just Between Us —
—by Bobby Westbrook

This is no time to be going on a diet. Every club puts not only its best foot forward but its best Christmas cookies, too.

And when a sudden storm, like the one on Monday, cuts down the attendance the ones who are there merely step up their intake. At the AAUW meeting on Monday night, for instance, there were four different kinds of cookies for everybody.

Which is one of the reasons why small meetings are often more fun than big ones. And another reason is that, in a small group, everybody feels free to speak his mind, which makes for a stimulating meeting. Except for the program chairman, of course, who is likely to end up with nervous indigestion.

Not, of course, Miss Eloise Bryan, who was program chairman at AAUW. As school psychologist, she knows how to take those things in her stride: a storm bound speaker, a new program to arrange in a trice, plus a trip home to Swifwater and back again before-hand.

But why didn't she stay safe at home? "You'll think I need a psychiatrist if I tell you," she confessed. It seems the evening gosbarks arrived Monday morning en masse and she was sure she hadn't put out enough bird feed to last through a snowy day, so she went home to replenish their supply.

And it was well worth the trip, she contended. Cardinals, bunting, blue jays and grosbeaks had a field day in her feeder. Practically as colorful a flock was feeding from the tea table at the Wyckoff home yesterday afternoon for the Hosptial Aux. party.

That's another reason why these Christmas meetings are enjoyable. Everybody with a red dress or red hat wears it so that the whole audience sort of glows. And, unfortunately for dieters, also grows — sideways, that is.

Mrs. Scheim President Of Barrett Club

Barrett — The annual Christmas party of the Barrett Community Club was held recently at the Barrett YMCA. The tables were decorated in a Christmasy mood and gifts were exchanged among the members present.

During the business meeting, it was voted to eliminate the donation to the Women's Medical College, and also to eliminate summer meetings.

Three project teams were chosen under the leadership of Mrs. Jackie Moffett, Mrs. Siggle Larsen, and Mrs. Joyce Wilson. These groups will be responsible for holding one money-making project each during this year.

The Christmas Dance this year will be held at Pocono Mountain Inn on Saturday, December 19. All money must be by December 12.

The new slate of officers was presented and approved by the Club. They are as follows: President, Mrs. Marion Scheim, Vice - President, Mrs. Marge Thomas, 2nd Vice - President, Mrs. Bette McCambridge, secretary, Mrs. Phyllis Price, treasurer, Mrs. Molly Rogers, and corresponding secretary, Mrs. Edith Warner.

Entertainment was provided by Mrs. Stephanie Manhart, Mrs. Bette McCambridge, and Mrs. Rena Nauman, who sang several selections with Mrs. Nauman accompanying them on the piano.

It was announced that there would be a Board Meeting on December 10 at Mrs. Rachel Lindsey's house.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Christmas Bake Sale By Fellowship

Dingmans Ferry — A Christmas bake sale will be held at the Methodist Church in Dingmans Ferry this Saturday, December 12 at 2 p.m. The Methodist Youth Fellowship is sponsoring this bake sale to help raise money for the purchase of a Nativity scene which will be erected in front of the church along Route 209 soon.

The M.Y.F. made final plans for this project at their regular meeting Sunday evening, December 6. The ten members present also made plans for an evening of caroling in Delaware Township on Monday, December 21.

The bouffant skirt ended in a ruffled chapel train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was draped from a miniature jewelled crown. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis, white roses, white orchids and variegated ivy.

Her attendants were in Christmassy red silk organza over taffeta with draped necklines and full gathered skirts. They wore capes of red feathers and silk organza with veils and carried white lace baskets with red and white carnations and greens.

Miss Karen Reimel was maid of honor. Miss Isabelle Rutt, Mrs. Betty Bickford and Miss Beverly Bishop were bridesmaids with Mrs. Jean D'Imperio and Miss Judy Pritchard, cousins of the bride.

The The Wyckoff Shopper

Olive is to be a very important part of Christmas this year . . . not just the olives on the dinner table, but the olive green that is such a very fashionable shade, particularly in men's and boy's wear. Bill Wells, merchandising manager for our second floor apparel departments, called this to my attention recently, when he supplied me with a list of possible gifts, priced under ten dollars.

"Green . . . Olive Green that is!" his copy reads. And beneath this he lists both polo and "cut and sewn" sport shirts, slacks, and such. He has even listed a more expensive item—Continental suits of olive herringbone, priced at 17.98 in sizes 6 to 12, and 25.00 in sizes 14 to 20.

But let's take a look at some of the things Bill has suggested in a wide—and considerably less expensive—price range. Gift sets, for instance . . . tie, cuff links, and handkerchiefs . . . military brush and comb . . . shoe shine kits . . . tie, tie clasp, and pen . . . priced from 1.00 up . . . socks, 3 pairs for 1.75 . . . Swank jewelry sets priced from 1.50 to 2.50 . . . Thermal pajamas, 2.98 and 3.98 . . . Botany Bathrobes in wool or cotton flannel, 7.98 . . . the finest of all boys' sweaters "Robert Bruce," in Como-type cardigans and slippers, priced from 5.00 to 12.00 . . . Bedford cord slacks, including Huskies, in all colors including charcoal (very dark) olive, 3.98 and 4.98 . . . Tom Sawyer hooded wash and wear parkas in sizes from 6 to 20, 11.90 and 14.98 . . . 9-oz. polished cotton slacks in four colors, 3.98 . . . famous Donmoor polo shirts, 1.98, 2.98 and 3.98 . . . Hochmeyer corduroy slacks, in Navy, Charcoal, and Brown at 2.99—others at 3.98, 4.98 and 5.98 . . . cotton slacks at 3.98 and 4.98 . . . and dress slacks at 4.98 and 5.98.

The Twelve Days of Christmas is one of my favorite carols . . . ever since the year it was played so many times over our store amplifier that almost everyone else had banned it forever. I love the partridge in the pear tree . . . the five golden rings . . . the pretty maidens dancing . . . and all those other interesting articles and characters that, according to the song, add to holiday pleasure.

Now we have a highly original and very beautiful "picture" of the lyrics in our front window. In grotto point, it was designed and worked by Mrs. Alice Warncke, of Shawnee, and won for her the 2nd prize in the Nation Wide Needlepoint contest at the recent Eastern States Exposition in West Springfield, Mass.

It is beautiful . . . and I frankly cannot see why it didn't get first prize. However, Mrs. Warncke walked off with a generous share of honors. Her only other entry was awarded honorable mention. This shows the top of a table, worked in green, upon which, against a lighter green background, stands a breathtakingly lovely bouquet of roses in a Wedgwood vase. The latter has been copied with great artistry from an antique.

Wife of Louis Warncke, Alice is one of the most gifted needlewomen to be found anywhere . . . certainly one of the most talented in our particular area. Not only does she possess patience and skill, but she is highly original. Many of the needlework patterns women buy through magazines were her designs. I am told too that many of her needlework creations are proudly displayed in Monroe County homes. Certainly they are works of art, and you must make it a point to see those displayed in our front window.

Late Rally Wins

S-Burg Dumped By Dieruff Five In Opener, 47-44

STROUDSBURG HIGH'S Mountaineers led at the end of every quarter but the last one in losing 47-44 to Dieruff of Allentown in the Queen City last night.

Al Hiel, who ended the evening as the game's high scorer with 17 markers shattered any hopes coach Bob Werf's boys might had of had an opening game victory when he pumped in eight points in the final stanza.

Werf's output in the last period equalled the Mounties' point production for the same frame.

Stroudsburg held a slim 36-32 lead going into the final five but lost Todd Williams via the foul route soon after the period started. Williams and Leo Frailey tossed in 11 points each for Stroudsburg.

With Williams on the sidelines the Queen City five closed the gap and battled the scrappy Mountaineers for the lead.

Stroudsburg held the lead twice in the last period but couldn't hold off a late rush by Dieruff.

The Mountaineers hit on an amazing 72 percent of their shots with an 18 for 25 mark while Dieruff connected on 15 for 27.

Dieruff, however, converted 14 free throws while the Mounties could only tally eight times from the charity stripe.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's 51 state-aided homes will have to certify that they are free from discrimination because of race, color or creed before getting public funds.

Fish Unit Reclaims 'Deep Lake'

JAMES F. HAZEN, district fish warden, said yesterday the Pennsylvania Fish Commission has reclaimed "Deep Lake."

In 1958 the commission covered the lake with stack dust to aid in the fertilization. Yesterday it placed 3,200 fingerling trout in the lake.

The lake will be open to the public for the 1960 trout season. No live bait will be permitted.

The project is an experiment conducted by the fish commission. Those who aided are: Clair Fleeger, regional warden supervisor; John Doebling, district game protector; James F. Hazen, district fish warden, and Floyd Heller, Sciota sportsman.

State Returns To 'Normaley'

By The Associated Press

DRIFTS, a transit strike and freezing temperatures continued to harass many Pennsylvanians Wednesday. But otherwise a return to normaley followed the state's first general snowstorm, which claimed the lives of four.

In Philadelphia the temperature failed to drop as low as the weatherman predicted and reached a high of 41. All main roads were open and ice on secondary roads melted to a great extent.

Pittsburgh was snarled badly by traffic jams resulting from its transit strike and the snowfall.

While snow crusted many of the state's rural roads, traffic ground much ice into slush. The sun broke through and caused a thaw.

State and county highway crews continued to open roads that had been shut by drifts as high as six feet, both in the northwestern and in the eastern part of the state.
